

Doomsday Preppers

Project Assignment

As you now know the Earth produces some crazy natural disasters. You are now doomsday preppers getting ready for the next big disaster. Your job for this project is to survive, Good luck!

You have been assigned one of the following disasters: Magnitude 9.0 Earthquake, Large volcanic eruption, Large asteroid Impact, Category 5 Hurricane, F5 Tornado, or Catastrophic Flood. Your group is now the expert on this natural disaster and is responsible for teaching the rest of the class how to survive.

In order to do this successfully you must complete the following tasks.

1. Create a PowerPoint or other digital presentation to explain your disaster. This should include a description of how the event happens, what causes it, how often it happens, and where it is likely to occur. (Feel free to include any other information you think is important)
2. Tell the class how you plan to survive, this can be done orally or as part of the presentation. This should include where you will stay during the disaster, what supplies you will need for a group of your size, and how long you plan to stay in your "bunker". (Feel free to include any other information you think is important)
3. Design the building/bunker/cave you will use to survive the disaster. This should be done on a large sheet of easel pad paper. The design should have important features labeled.
